Czech President Resigns

JAN SYROVY TAKES OVER Soviet-Paris Break Looms

MOSCOW, Oct. 5.—(UP)—President Eduard Benes resigned today after a losing fight to prevent German absorption of the Sudeten area of Czechoslovakia.

The government was left for the time being in the hands of Premier Jan Syrovy, one-eyed World War hero, at the head of a reconstructed cabinet in which the Slovakian minority of the partly dismembered republic has been given stronger representation.

Organizer

Benes had been President of Czechoslovakia since December, 1935. He was leader of the Czech nationalist movement since World War days and one of the founders of the Little Entente.

As chief delegate to the Versailles peace conference, he strenuously promoted creation of the post-war republic and staunchly defended it in the ensuing years at the League of Nations.

Benes' policies incurred the bitter enmity of Fuehrer Adolf Hitler. The Fuehrer excommunicated him in his recent Nuremberg and Berlin speeches, denouncing him as an unscrupulous plotter and a liar.

Inevitable

The resignation of Benes was regarded as a result of the inevitable change in Czechoslovakia's foreign policy after the amputation of its main defenses, and the fact that British French military aid was not forthcoming when needed.

Syrovy will be provisional president, under present plans, until the national assembly can be summoned to elect a new president.

However, there was considerable confusion of opinion among foreign observers and even Czech officials. Some speculated on the possibility of a possible semi-dictatorship, at least in the interim.

New Cabinet

Syrovy's new cabinet of national concentration took office this morning, after having given their oaths of allegiance to Benes last night.

Appointment of Frankoisek Chvalkovsky as foreign minister may mark the beginning of a new foreign policy which will tend to bring Czechoslovakia and Germany closer together.

L. A. Realtor Buys Seal Beach Land

All of the unsold portion of Seal Beach has been purchased by Philip Norton, real estate developer and president of the Los Angeles Realty board, it was announced today. The property is to be valued at a half a million dollars.

The property was bought of the Security First National bank. It recently has been under liquidation. Immediate erection of 30 new homes is planned.

The Norton company has already opened offices in Seal Beach.

DALADIER GIVEN FULL POWER TO MEET FINANCIAL CRISIS

PARIS, Oct. 5.—The senate today voted Premier Edouard Daladier full financial powers to meet the emergency arising from French mobilization during the European crisis. The senate chamber previously had approved the cabinet's foreign policy.

The Senate vote was 284 to 4.

Immediately thereafter it suspended sessions for a parliamentary vacation, leaving Daladier a triumph on foreign policy but a split in the popular front uniting the Radical Socialist, Socialist and Communist parties since 1936.

Shun Vote

It seemed, however, that the popular front as a solid political bloc was at an end. The Socialists abstained from the final vote on the financial powers bill. The Communists voted against it. The final vote was 331 for the bill and 78 against, with 208 abstentions.

It was forecast that one of the government's first moves under the financial powers act might be to revalue the gold reserves of the Bank of France. This would not involve a further fall in the rate of the franc. The bank's gold stock was last revalued in July 1937. In this way the chamber made sure that the powers would be extended in no way to the budget.

at 43 milligrams of gold 9-10 fine, corresponding to the parity of exchange at that time. Revaluation at the present rate of exchange parity would permit the bank to write an estimated 25,000,000 francs ($670,000,000) on its books without affecting the exchange rate.

Won't Raise Limit

Before the chamber financial commission last night, Daladier and Finance Minister Paul Marchand promised not to resort to such financial measures as foreign exchange control or raising the treasury's borrowing limit at the Bank of France.

Originally the government asked plenary finance powers until December 1. During the debate yesterday it agreed first to limit them to December 1 and finally the limit date was set at November 15. In this way the chamber made sure that the powers would be extended in no way to the budget.

GRAND JURY HEARS ALLEN

BULLETIN
Deputy District Attorney Frank Cummings, of Los Angeles county, in charge of the clerk's office and records in that department, was a witness before the county grand jury today. Cummings, it was said, had permitted the withdrawal of records of the office by Deputy Sheriff G. F. McKelvey, of Orange county, who was a grand jury witness yesterday.

NEW BRITISH-ROME TREATY FORMULATED

ROME, Oct. 5.—(UP)—A British-Italian agreement to liquidate outstanding disagreements is imminent, it was reported today in most reliable quarters.

It was even predicted that agreement might be reached by tomorrow night.

The Earl of Perth, British ambassador, and Count Galeazzo Ciano, foreign minister, had their third talk within three days this morning.

Make Progress

It was understood that they made further progress toward an agreement which would:

1.—Bring the withdrawal of Italian troops from Spain.

2.—Result in bringing into effect the British-Italian pact, concluded in April but hinged on the withdrawal of Italian troops from Spain.

3.—Result in British recognition of Italy's conquest of Ethiopia, which also was part of the friend-ship treaty.

NEW VICTORIES ARE CLAIMED BY REBELS

HENDAYE, French-Spanish Frontier, Oct. 5.—(UP)—Insurgent troops reported capture of six more Loyalist positions on the Ebro front today as Generalissimo Francisco Franco's offensive gained momentum.

Loyalist resistance was reported less stubborn as a result of severe losses in the last 24 hours of intensive fighting. The Loyalists claimed to have counter attacked, but there were conflicting reports as to whether they dented the insurgents lines.

Loyalists Trapped

Tanks, followed by infantry, carried the brunt of the insurgent offensive in the Sierra de Chareun sector. Loyalist troops attempting to counterattack were reported caught in heavy cross fire by machine guns which broke their drive.

Insurgent planes ranged along the eastern coast, from Barcelona to Valencia, while infantry pushed forward toward the Moda de Ebro bridgehead. Around midnight Nationalists bombs fell into Valencia, chiefly in the port zone. The raiders sought to bomb Barcelona several times, but apparently were driven off.

The Loyalists reported several aerial victories on the Ebro front. Barcelona said government squadrons met insurgent chasers and bombers over the Nationalists lines and brought down several. The exact number was not determined because it was cloudy and the fighting was outside government territory.

The story is not true. The government denied it."

Toscanini, harried, apparently unable to talk, was interviewed in Saint Lazare station where he caught the boat train that will sail him aboard the liner Normanie sailing from Le Havre at noon. He had raced across Paris by automobile from the train which had brought him from his home in Milan, stopping by the offices of the French line where he got the last accommodation on the Normandie—a cabin which he must share with another voyager.

Huge Lights Sent To Honolulu

FORT BRAGG, N. C., Oct. 5.—(UP)—Ten of the United States' 26 powerful aerial searchlights, built at a total cost of $700,000, will be sent to Hawaii at conclusion of the U. S. army's most extensive games here, it was disclosed today.

The searchlights, built to spot high flying enemy bombers, were brought here for the war games which extended through Oct. 17.

Army officials were understood to consider the powerful lights more useful in the islands. New ones will be built for mainland defense stations, it was understood.

Mrs. Margie Spender, 33, and Mrs. Irene Moody, 23, both of Sacramento, were killed in the accident.

Move To End Warehouse Tieup

PLACERVILLE, Cal., Oct. 5.—(UP)—Additional searching parties were organized today to seek James Mortimer, 21, Placerville, missing since Sunday while deer hunting in the Cat Creek district southeast of here.

Two airplanes and a ground force of C. C. C. youths returned last night after an intensive search of the region and reported they found no trace of the hunter in the rugged and heavily wooded area.

Authorities believed Mortimer may have been injured, since he was a native of Eldorado county and thoroughly familiar with the country.

Father Jails Girl Jailer

LEXINGTON, N. C., Oct. 5.—(UP)—Lula Belle, jailer's daughter who fell in love with a handsome felon, cried herself sick in jail today, vowing that her first experience with men would be her last.

Her father locked her up himself and then, in "deep humiliation," resigned his job. Lula Belle, in charge of the jail while he was away, had freed her boy friend and another felon who repaid her faith in them by murdering one man, kidnaping another, and pulling a string of holdups.

Surround Woods

Today, a posse was deployed around a woods near here where they believed James Godwin, 19, and Bill Wilson, 21, were hiding. If and when caught they will join

MAN WANTED HERE FOR MURDER NABBED

One of Orange county's most cold-blooded murders was cleared up today, following arrest and confession of Benny Stratton, alias Mike Crogan, 45, transient junk dealer, charged with the shotgun killing of Clayton Sharritt in Santa Ana river bottom near county hospital, June 14, 1927.

Stratton was arrested yesterday in Batavia, N. Y., on a vagrancy charge after being picked up in a hob camp, and admitted both his identity and the Sharritt murder.

H. W. Ware, Batavia police chief, telephoned to Sheriff Logan Jackson. The sheriff will send one or two deputies to Batavia soon to bring Stratton here. Stratton will waive extradition.

Recall Records

Records show Stratton set up a camp 30 yards from a camp occupied in the river bed by Sharritt and his partner, William M. Robe, in 1927. Sharritt and Robe had been partners in the junk business for three years.

Stratton, an Irish Indian, according to records, borrowed a shotgun from B. L. Caramello, Orange, and, as Robe left camp for Garden Grove, told him he was going to hunt rabbits. Robe was but a half-mile away when he heard a shot. Later he found Sharritt and Stratton both gone but the Sharritt-Robe shacks ransacked. On June 19, Robe found Sharritt's body buried in 16 or 18 inches of river bottom sand. Further investigation showed Sharritt had been shot through the mouth, robbed of $40. The Sharritt-Robe supply of junk, including 130 pounds of copper wire, also was missing.

RECOVERY HINGES ON PRICES, SAYS F. D. R.

ALSO STRESSES LABOR TRUCE

the federal government planned to put TVA's all over the United States; that it was impossible for private industry to raise money for new power plants; that the government tax burden was far higher than a year ago, or three years or five years ago; as well as many obvious attacks on the government for partisan purposes.

HYDE PARK, N. Y., Oct. 5.—(UPI)—President Roosevelt is optimistic over the business and industrial outlook and feels there will be a steady recovery if "prices do not go through the roof." And if cooperation replaces labor and industrial strikes rattling.

Mr. Roosevelt was asked whether this country would take the initiative in a world disarmament movement. He replied that he was standing on his administration's record on that point and that the record had been very clear over the past five years.

Based On Pledges

The administration past stand on disarmament, observers recalled, consisted of pledges to join other powers in a move to curb arms if the others were ready to make a concerted effort.

Mr. Roosevelt was represented as feeling that prices of wheat and cotton are too low and should be raised in order to provide a profit for producers.

But he was represented as being cheered over the employment situation because it was up more than seasonally, with the maximum effects of the government's lending-spending program not yet felt.

Cease Bickering

His general attitude may be summed up as follows:

1. That labor should cease its bickering and stop calling names.

2. Industrial peace instead of war between industry and the government.

3. Cessation of extravagant statements, misrepresentation of government policies for political benefit, the painting of overdark pictures and the setting up of bogies before the eyes of business and industry.

Fire Burns Garage, Threatens Home

Fire of undetermined origin at 10 a. m. today destroyed the garage and seriously damaged the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Boyd, of 944 West Myrtle street, and the loss was estimated to be at least $1,000.

Responding to the alarm, Santa Ana firemen fought the flames for more than half an hour and saved the home from complete destruction. The back porch, roof and bedroom were badly damaged.

FREE PHONES TO ORANGE IS AIM

Free telephone service between the courthouse in Santa Ana and the city of Orange, and reduced tolls to Anaheim and other outside points, were part of a move by the county supervisors to expand the courthouse telephone exchange.

The board accepted a proposal by the Southern California Telephone company to add two Santa Ana-Tustin trunk lines to the five lines now connected with the courthouse, and in addition, to supply two trunk lines to Orange, eliminating the present five-cent toll charge; also to reduce the Anaheim toll charge from 10 cents to five cents, and reduce other outside tolls five cents per call.

Need More Lines

Purchasing Agent Eugene Fencl on presented the matter to the board, stating that the present five trunk lines are insufficient to handle the traffic, forcing long-distance calls through the outside. The cost of the extra trunk lines would be more than balanced by the saving of tolls, he said. In addition, he pointed out, there would be the saving of tolls to Orange and other points.

Chairman Willard Smith added that the saving would not be confined to the county, but to private citizens using telephone service to the courthouse.

CHEST DINNER SET FOR TODAY

Volunteer workers in the Community Chest campaign will attend a dinner meeting this evening at 6:30 o'clock at campaign headquarters, 215 East Fourth street, where their campaign will be officially launched to raise $33,830.00 for Santa Ana's eight charity and welfare organizations.

This evening's meeting climaxes weeks of intensive preparation during which time an organization of more than 400 volunteer men and women have been enrolled in the various departments of the campaign.

Receive Instructions

Tonight they will receive instructions, working supplies will be issued to them, and tomorrow morning the campaign will be in full swing throughout the city.

Dr. W. Valentine Henley, Director of Coordination of the University of Southern California, will be the principal speaker. "His wide experience in Social Service work and his experience as an educator, gives him an admirable background for the message he will give our workers," Chairman Robertson said.

Workers in the campaign are not only serving without pay, but each one pays for his own dinner, it was pointed out.

GROUP SEEKS LABOR PEACE IN BAY AREA

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 5.—(UPI)—A new 10-man business-labor peace committee called a public hearing today to discuss plans to settle San Francisco's department stores strike as a battle over state relief aid to the strikers developed.

Called into action by Mayor Angelo J. Rossi and urged by him to effect speedy settlement of the strike in the interests of the public and the city's industrial growth, the peace committee announced both sides would be asked to present their case at the city hall at 3:30 p. m.

Clash Develops

As these developments indicated the start of a harmonious approach to the latest effort to settle the strike, a clash developed over the question of relief aid to the strikers involved at the 35 large department stores.

Replies to a request from William R. Lawson, Northern California WPA administrator, that the state qualify the strikers for WPA aid, State Relief Administrator Harold Pomeroy said such certification would be "out and out financing of the strike out of relief funds appropriated to help those who can't help themselves."

"We refuse this," Pomeroy wrote, "because the policy involved is so fundamental that we cannot be a party in any way to a source of action which seems to us to be utterly unsound as that required by your request. We cannot permit public relief funds in California to be used for other purposes than for which they were intended."

Refuse Relief

Previously Pomeroy had refused to grant strikers direct state relief and said he based both refusals on the contention that under the law work was available to the strikers since the stores remained open.

Pomeroy said the law requires that relief seekers present themselves to their last previous employer to seek re-employment and that if they could not obtain work by such a procedure then they were eligible for relief.

SAFE METHOD

The ignition switch should always be left on and the clutch engaged when descending a grade, advises the emergency service department of the Automobile Club of Southern California. This permits the pistons to work against compression and exert braking power. Shutting off the switch causes raw gasoline to be drawn into the cylinders, washing lubricant from the walls.

Seaplanes are wearing rubber shoes. In place of the metal or wooden pontoons, rubber balloons have been developed which, inflated to a low pressure, act as shock absorbers in taking off and alighting.

HUNGRY MAN, 67, TRIES WEEK TO GET IN JAIL, SUCCEEDS

Hungry after more than a week of eating nothing but tomatoes and walnuts, John Schmid, 67-year-old Los Angeles ranch worker, smashed a show window at the A. F. Granas liquor store, Broadway and Third, early today, stole two quarts of wine, then waited for police to arrest him.

That was his story when James Gross, employee of the local Merchants patrol, found him standing in front of the store at 6 a. m. making a noise to attract attention.

Tried For Week

"I've been trying to get someone to arrest me for a week so I could go to jail," Schmid said. He said he shouted and struck the bottles against one another for five minutes before anyone noticed him although he had just smashed the window. A street sweeper first noticed him. Schmid said he stuffed his pockets full of goods at a local five-and-ten cent store during the week to get arrested but the manager relieved him of the goods and ushered him out of the store, freed him.

Taken to a restaurant by Officers Herman Stahl and L. C. Rogers, Schmid was fed. "Gee, you treat a criminal nice," he said as they paid the bill from their own purses. He had just consumed two complete orders of ham and eggs, including fried potatoes, six pieces of toast and four cups of coffee. He is charged with burglary. "I would have committed suicide but didn't have the nerve," he said as he went to jail. He said he cut his throat a year ago but police saved him.

POEMS PUBLISHED

When Delta Zeta sorority members of Santa Ana received their copies of the current issue of their national publication, the "Lamp," they were delighted to find one of their own members, Juanita Wright Fletcher (Mrs. Warren Fletcher), among the contributors.

Mrs. Fletcher had two poems, "Contentment" and "Beauty," published in the issue, that of September. She is a member of the Edison school staff, and numbers among her varied interests, Panhellenic society, Santa Ana Community Players' association, and similar cultural groups. She and Mrs. Fletcher, who is with a title company here and is active in Cantando club as well as Community Players, have a charming home at Corona del Mar.

New Chief

Two millions have been lent the Dollar Line by the U. S. Maritime Commission and the "Dollar Fleet" will be back to sea again in four months, according to the new president.

16 MILES OF GRAVEL

Motorists driving north along the Coast above Fort Bragg will find an excellent gravel road to one mile south of Westport, a distance of about 16 miles, states the Touring Department of the National Automobile Club. Construction will be encountered from one mile south of Westport into Westport, and careful driving is necessary as the road is narrow and several pieces of construction equipment are along the road.

In the seven months ended July 31, domestic airlines flew 704,000 passengers, as compared with 585,999 a year ago.

LEE MAY PITCH THREE GAMES IN SERIES

CUB STARS GO TO BEDSIDE OF YOUTHFUL FAN

CHICAGO.—(UP)—John Edward English, 14, is a Cub's fan. For a month he had cheered their drive down the home stretch. He saw them win the National league pennant, and he had prayed that they would defeat the New York Yankees in the world series. During the month he fought against Neurofibromatosis, a fast spreading form of cancer that follows along the nerves, and he defeated predictions of physicians that, at any moment, he would lose his battle and die.

David G. Berens had given him only a 1000 to one chance to live. Yesterday he would give him only another month at most. That was before the boy awoke and found two of his heroes, Bill Jurges, Cubs' shortstop, and "Rip" Collins, Cubs' first baseman, standing beside his bed.

"We heard you were sick and didn't get to any of the games," Jurges grinned, "so we thought we'd drop out to see you."

"And we brought you these," Collins said, holding out two baseballs. "We thought you might like them."

John took them. On one were the autographs of all the Cub players, on the other, the autographs of all the Yankee players.

His voice was shaky. He hadn't known Collins and Jurges were going to visit him.

"Gee... thanks, he said.

He had been husky youth, had played baseball with his eighth grade classmates. Last April he underwent an operation for a tumor. He appeared to be recovering. Then he had a relapse and physicians realized he was a victim of neurofibromatosis, usually fatal within six months at the most.

Despite all predictions, he has held on.

He had chatted for a long time with Collins and Jurges. He was brightest when they promised that the Cubs would win the series.

"You must beat them," he said. "If I get well quick enough maybe I can see you play."

"Sure," Collins said.

John's mother took the players aside before they left and thanked them for their kindness.

"We've prayed for a miracle," she said. "Maybe this is the beginning. He seems better already."

Pigskin Paragraphs

Season's First All-American Team; This One For Baseball

Back in the middle of the summer, the nation's fans started trekking to the polls to elect the Kellogg All-American team, composed of the most popular player in each division on the diamond, and this is the result: first base, Lou Gehrig, New York Yankees; second base, Charley Gehring, Detroit Tigers; shortstop, Joe Cronin, Boston Red Sox; third base, Mel Ott, New York Giants; left field, Joe Medwick, St. Louis Cardinals; centerfield, Joe DiMaggio, Yankees; right field, Pete Fox, Tigers; catcher, Bill Dickey, Yankees; pitchers, Red Ruffing, Yankees; Carl Hubbell, Giants; Johnny Vander Meer, Cincinnati Reds; Lefty Grove, Red Sox; and Tommy Bridges, Tigers. The Yankees, placing four men on the squad, matched the National League in popularity. Gehring, polling 74 per cent of the second base votes, collected the most ballots in any single position. Babe Ruth, incidentally, received votes in six of the nine positions—first base, left field, center, right, pitcher and catcher. Each of the winning players received a new automobile.

Former Yankee 'Trigger Man' Now Sits In High Council Of Chicago's Northside Mob'

BY HENRY McLEMORE
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

CHICAGO—Chicago has gone softy.

Visitors no longer have to order their suits from Hart, Schaffner and Bethlehem Steel.

A pineapple is something to eat, a typewriter is something to write on, and no one dreads lead poisoning.

Even a squealer isn't put on the spot anymore and if he is taken for a ride it is down Michigan boulevard, with folks throwing ticker tape at him.

To prove what I say is true, I give you Anthony (The Brain) Lazzeri, who is known to the trade as Tony the Torpedo.

Lazzeri knows a lot. For 12 years, and six world series, this desperado of the diamond wormed his way into the innermost chambers of the Yankee hideout. He learned what Yankee pitchers had. He learned how they held the ball when they threw a curve, a strike, or changed pace. In his mind he stored away, cunningly, the strength and the weakness of the batters.

Even as I write this, Lazzeri is equaling on his old mob—the New York Yankees. For 12 years Lazzeri was one of the Yankee "trigger" men. He sat in on their councils, helped grease their guns, helped put the finger on their foes. In a pinch, no one was more anxious to rub 'em out than "The Brain," particularly on two killings at second base. His was a "black hand" on the bat.

Then the Northside Chicago mob got to him. With dough. He sold out to public money bag No. 1, Phil Wrigley, who is known in chicle circles as "The Bite." He left the Yankee mob for the Cub gang. It is not known for sure how he left, but the D. A. suspects he left in the dead of night in a sleek, high-powered Pullman, lower 8, car 4, answering to the name of Hiawatha Springs.

CHICK BROTHERS TO PENN, JACKSON TOP WRESTLE 2 BRITTS NEW BOXING SHOW

Anyway, today he is sitting in a bomb-proof dugout with his fellow baseball killers from Chicago. Already the Cubs have sent expensive wreaths to the Pirates, and are today pricing triple-plated caskets for Yankees. They are counting on "The Brain".

Now what can "The Brain" tell them? What can he squeal? What secrets can he give away? Local police authorities are watching this closely, and are said already to have thrown a cordon around Lazzeri. The situation called for a three-way investigation, and they have announced that a break is imminent—and as everybody knows, breaks make the series.

"Good!" said Lazzeri. "That proved I'm right." Gehrig lifted one out of the park.

"Even better," said The Brain. "That proves I'm on the inside."

Dickey stepped into a fast one and belted it into the lake. "Better still," remarked The Brain gleefully looking at his pals for approval.

This came speedily. They all looked at him and nodded gravely, as if to say: "What's the losers' share?"

SPORTS-MAN-ABOUT-TOWN

"Bobbie Musick is a better defensive fullback right now than either Jim or Bill were as prep," observes Coach Bill Foote, who had both the elder Musicks under his wing at Santa Ana high school. "Bob still has plenty to learn. He runs much too high for one thing. But he's a high tackling and hits with everything he's got. Already this season he's made more tackles than Bill did all last year." . . . This makes young Bob out as quite a prospect 'cause he also can kick and pass, feats seldom attempted by his big brothers. A 100-yard Bobbie weighs close to 180, ought to scale above 190 next year."

The automobile "Tex" Oliver drives was purchased with bonus-money presented him by admiring "Towncats" of Tucson, Ariz., where Oliver coached before moving up the University of Oregon. "Tex" was leaving Arizona since it was Arizona money he felt he should spend it down there. He didn't need a car but bought one anyway; that's the kind of a guy he is . . . Sammy Tucker was helping Bill Foote scout S.C. and Oregon State for Oliver at the Coliseum Saturday but forgot all about his job in the excitement of listening to a press-box radio broadcast of the Oregon-U.C.L.A. thriller.

There has been ill feeling between the two former champions. It is said, ever since the night Britt lost the title and was refused a rematch by Chick. Since that time Britt has trailed the former Wyoming cowboy over the United States attempting to force him to return match.

BILLY JOSEPH INELIGIBLE TO PLAY FOR S. A.

A new Eastern conference transfer ruling affecting high school graduates coming from other junior college districts today lopped off Santa Ana jaysee's football roster. Halfback Billy Joseph, brother of Co-Captain Johnny Joseph of the Dons. The Josephs register from Los Angeles.

Young Joseph will remain out for football and will be allowed to participate in non-conference games, Coach Bill Cook said.

Fullerton lost two unnamed footballers by the ruling, and other colleges also suffered, it was reported.

Leo (The Lion) Cantor, who has a brother on the U.C.L.A. varsity, is the man Santa Ana's Dons must stop Friday night if they would turn in a victory over the Bruin Frosh at the Municipal Bowl.

Leo Cantor is the Roosevelt high school quarterback who was rated as the best prep back in Los Angeles last year. He was an unanimous nominee for all-city honors.

Against California Freshmen last Saturday, Cantor was the outstanding man on the field although the Berkeley Babes finally won, 14-6.

Cantor's passes bewildered the California secondary. Just about the time the Berkeley boys (including Don Warhurst, Ray Amling and Larry Stump, former Orange county preps) thought they had his aerials solved Cantor began running with the ball. A fast, tricky leather-packer, the Jewish boy broke loose for gain after gain. He went for one touchdown and threatened to get away on several other occasions although his team was overclassed.

For the first time this season the Don running attack really functioned in high gear as Coach Bill Cook sent his big squad through a strenuous scrimmage yesterday. It was by far the most encouraging workout the Dons have had since the season started. Gaping holes were opened by Don linemen as Lynn Arnett, Larry Timken and other backs romped for long gains. The blocking of the halfbacks was much improved.

Ed Becker continued to operate at halfback during the workout instead of his customary left tackle post. His blocking on running plays was good and if he is able to pick up the plays by game-time Friday he probably will start Wrigley field that eventual win.

The remarks they made about him . . . Pie Traynor on down . . . made me pretty mad. Traynor saying that Paul had so little stuff that he could hit him with his fist. Nice thing to crack about a kid trying to make good after being down and out. Well, Paul beat 'em anyway, and I licked 'em good and plenty. I gave everything I had to take that flag away from them."

Bill Lee, or what there is left of him after his heroic marathon stunt, and Clay Bryant should give the Yankees more trouble in the world series than the entire Pittsburgh staff figured to stir up, and they may now expect help from Dean that was overclassed.

DEAN IS MUCH FASTER THAN HE LOOKS

Charles Root declares that Dean was much faster in his great 2-1 victory over the Bucs than people could see from the stands.

Diz throws with so easy a motion that it fools spectators as well as hitters," explains the veteran. "His fast ball goes just enough to make 'em pop up."

When the Pirates were seven and a half games in front, Freddie Lindstrom insisted that they would not win. Lindstrom performed with both the Bucs and Bruins after Bill Terry decided that he no longer fitted into the Giant scheme.

Hamaker's knee injury still gives him trouble so he is not likely to appear in the Olier contest unless a specially prepared brace arrives from St. Louis.

Hamaker is now the only casualty on the squad although Quarterback George Higash is sent home yesterday with a head cold.

The Saints scrimmaged lightly and will get some more of the same medicine today.

LATHROP PREPARES FOR SECOND GAME

Julia C. Lathrop junior high school's promising football squad makes its second start tomorrow, clashing with Ray Warren's Orange high school Class B team at Orange. Coach Lester W. Archer's team opened the season last Thursday against Laguna Beach high, losing 13-7.

The schedule for the rest of the season will include games against Newport Harbor Oct. 13 at Newport Heights; San Juan Capistrano at Capistrano Oct. 20, 27, and Austin Olinda at Austin Oct. 27, and Austin high's Class B team on Thursday, Nov. 3.

The Lathrop roster will include two full teams for each game, Coach Archer announced. In suit and practicing daily are Jack Givens, Russell Cleary, Kenneth Musick, Dave Flaherty, Truman Kibler, Jerry McCain, John Wood, Eugene Ferguson, David Menard, Rulando Martinez, Franklin Childs, Elbert Shane, Johnnie Kerr, Bob Snyder, Richard Villalobos, Dean Martin, Bruce Carnahan, Raul Aguilar, Hobart Dunn, Bill Dart, Robert Ashby, Tom Wilcox, Bobbie Earhart, and Manager Frank Fishbaugh and George McDougal.

Harry Grayson flashes that Carl Snavely of Cornell has been offered a coaching position on the Pacific coast. Now just where could he be? . . . See where Southern Methodist belted Arizona, 29-7, down at Dallas last week. Arizona must have missed G.A.O. a bit.

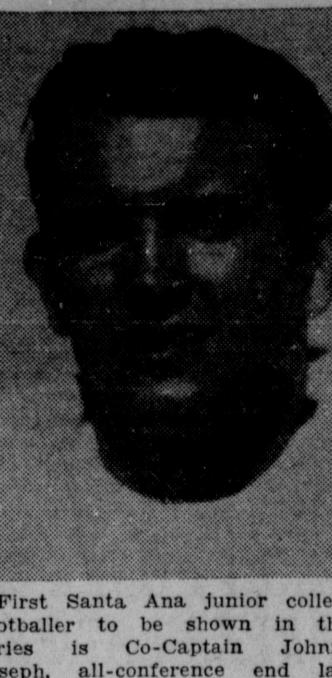

On the other hand, they say it was 97 and the heat "broke" the Arizona players in the last quarter. Until then it was anybody's ball game . . . Jimmy Sims, the San Bernardino Jaysee older who was the best tackle in the Eastern conference last season if "Rusty" Roquet wasn't, is starring for Leo Callard at San Diego State. Bill Timmons of Citrus, Bert Kleck of San Bernardino and Bert Hamerschmidt of Riverside are other Jaysee transfers playing regularly for the Aztecs.

SETS PRECEDENT

Jim Smith, star distance runner who was elected co-captain of Indiana's track team, is the first negro ever elected to lead a Hoosier athletic squad.

Fans at Santa Ana Jaysee's football games decide by ballot who'll get the award each week. The ballot box is located at Vander-

'GENERAL' IS CHICAGO'S ACE AGAINST YANKS

BY HARRY FERGUSON
(United Press Sports Editor)

CHICAGO—Have the band play "Dixie" for General Lee marches today, a latter-day General Lee who fights in the great tradition of Mars Robert and Lightfoot Harry, and who goes out to face the shot and shell of the New York Yankees in an attempt to give the Chicago Cubs victory in the opening game of the 1938 world series.

Tell the home folks down in Plaquemine, La., that William Crutcher Lee, Jr., 155 pounds of bone, muscle and nerve, is going out there on the shore of Lake Michigan this afternoon and throw his heart out for "Gabby" Hartnett and the Cubs. All he asks is a good hot day that will sweat the kinks out of his long right arm and a fair share of the breaks.

He'll need 'em, for out there against him, slamming that ball through for the Yankees, will be "Red" Ruffing, terror of the American league, whose fast one can hardly be seen on afternoons when the sun is behind the clouds. And in the batting box against General Lee will be that latest addition of "Murderer's Row," that gang of assassins who go by the names of DiMaggio, Gehrig, Dickey and Selkirk.

$1000 SOUGHT FOR PURCHASE OF LAND

Directors W. T. Wappou and W. C. Mauerhan of the Orange County Water district, appeared before the county supervisors yesterday and requested a contribution of $1000 from the county flood control levy to help purchase the Bradford brothers' ranch on the Santa Ana river in the move to widen the "bottleneck" near Yorba.

Wappou and Mauerhan said previous press reports had stated they asked the board last week to condemn both the Bradford property and the L. Ibbetson property, whereas they did not include the Bradford ranch of 18 acres.

Bradford brothers, they said, want $4000 for their place, whereas as the water district can offer only $2700, or at the most $3000, under a rule they adopted. They want the county to add the other $1000.

The supervisors, however, were urged to condemn the Ibbetson property, slightly more than one acre of riverbed, for which $1000 is asked. The water district appraises the place at $33.

GROWERS OF ORANGE COUNTY RETURN BEAN STRAW TO LAND

Many bean growers are returning the bean straw to the land this year, according to W. M. Cory, assistant farm advisor. Cory stated today that the addition of this organic matter to the soil will tend to improve the physical condition of the soil by building up its organic content.

"Soil continuously cropped year after year without the addition of application of a mulching material organic matter by plowing under tend to become hard and difficult to work," Cory said. "The soil particles tend to run together, making it difficult to prepare a good seed bed or to get water penetration."

Essential to Growth

"Organic matter is essential for the growth and development of soil bacteria. Such organisms in turn break down the organic matter and soil particles. The plant food thus liberated is available for next season's crop."

"The solubility of phosphorus and potassium in the soil is increased by the presence of organic matter; directly by the formation of organic compounds of these elements and indirectly through the action of carbon dioxide liberated in the decay of organic matter."

"To insure complete decomposition of the bean straw before planting time next spring, it should be evenly spread and incorporated in the surface soil as quickly as possible after harvest. It is probable that no larger amounts than one ton per acre be applied per season unless additional nitrogen supplies from another source."

Increased Yield Seen

"Preliminary results from the lima bean fertilizer trials this season indicate increased yields from the addition of nitrogen. The application of a large quantity of bean straw would tend to upset the nitrogen organic matter ratio until the bean straw had become thoroughly broken down. In which event the yield of the following crop would be affected."

Now That The War Is Over—

HOLLYWOOD, October 5.—Idol Chatter: You can almost hear Loretta Young purr when she is being praised—and you can almost see her claws when her temper is aroused. No sight more pitiful than a deluded "mama parading her over-dressed off-spring in front of the Brown Derby in hope of interesting the "right people." Secret ambition: to own a pair of shoulders like George O'Brien's. Wonder if there is any personal bitterness in Jack Oakie's observation that Hollywood marriages seldom outlast the bride's permanent wave.

Shaking hands with Harry Carey is like putting your hand in a vice, but his warm smile makes up for the discomfort. Al Jolson ought to diet or something—he's getting pear-shaped. Guess Fred Astaire must have taken that golf dance in "carefree" seriously—he tells me he's going to enter all the winter tournaments. I'd like to know the identity of a well-dressed old gentleman who shed tears over Marie Dressler's footprints at the Chinese the other night.

Pomp and circumstance Maxie Rosenbloom being driven down the Boulevard by his liveried Negro chauffeur, Janet Gaynor always reminds me of gingham gowns and hollyhocks. News to me: that Louis B. Mayer, dictator of M-G-M, used to be a deep-sea diver. If you have any dromedary camels, Paramount would be glad to rent them—they need 100 for "The Light That Failed" and that's 98 more than Hollywood can furnish.

They're tearing down the old No. 1 stage on the Universal lot in order to make way for new buildings. Watching the workmen today, I felt a lump in my throat—the kind you can only get by remembering. That old building, used as a storeroom for props these last ten years, was fame's credit for Lon Chaney, Rudolph Valentino, Priscilla Dean, Harry Carey, Hoot Gibson and dozens more whose names used to be box-office magic. Frank Lloyd, Robert Z. Leonard and many other directors started up the ladder there. I remember when technicians, instead of drafting blueprints for proposed sets, used to sketch their ideas on the floor of that stage and leave everything else to the carpenters. And I remember when Uncle Carl Laemmle used to invite the public to sit on the sidelines there and watch his stars at work—for twenty-five cents admission. That old Universal lot is always peopled by ghosts.

Tells Points of Law

"Simply stated, it regulates picking, makes a secondary boycott unlawful, outlaws coercion and intimidation in employment activities, restricts 'hot cargo' activities, outlaws the sit-down strike and guarantees to all the unimpeded and unobstructed use of the entrances to places of business and to any public places such as public highways, markets and wharves.

"None of the inherent rights of workers to organize, bargain collectively, strike, picket and boycott their employers are taken away by this statute. Its whole intent is to correct the impossible conditions which arise from the deplorable tactics injected into labor disputes by the racketeering elements whose motives are selfish and personal."

WATER DISTRICT
TO BE ORGANIZED

Proceedings were initiated yesterday before the county supervisors to forestall a threatened water famine for 39 homes in the Lloyd Park tract, south of Santa Ana, the board instructing Deputy District Attorney George Tobias to prepare proceedings for formation of a water district, enabling the area to connect with the Santa Ana water system. At present securing its supply from a mutual company well at Maple and St. Gertrude's place, the Lloyd Park tract has been notified that the surplus supply is gone, and its water will be shut off November 1.

The district proposes to finance a $7500 water system, connecting with the Santa Ana mains, 2200 feet away.

INVOLVES AREA
EAST OF 23RD

The state public lands commission at Los Angeles today invited bids on the drilling rights for 10 locations in the rich tidelands oil pool east of 23rd street in Huntington Beach.

The pool west of 23rd street was opened to private interests last week when the commission signed an agreement under which the Southwest Exploration Company was permitted to sink wells on 87 locations.

88 DERRICKS OPERATED

There are now 88 derricks operating in the tidal area east of 23rd street.

The state's action in permitting contracts for drilling into the tidelands pools is designed to offset slant drilling operations by major oil companies whose wells would eventually drain the publicly-owned deposits without any return to the state.

Man In Accident
Now Seeks Two
Who Saw It

Fred Barmore of 1503 French street would appreciate it if the two young men who witnessed an automobile accident at the corner of Fifteenth and Bush streets Saturday afternoon would contact him, he said today.

Following the accident in which Barmore's car, going east on 15th, collided with a car driven by Manuel Garcia, Route 1, Santa Ana, and going south on Bush, the two looked at the cars, then left the scene.

To Barmore's surprise, Garcia later alleged to police that the Barmore car damaged his.

"I was almost through the intersection when Garcia, coming from my left, and driving in the middle of the street swerved and hit my car at a spot between front and rear door," he asserted. "My car was knocked sideways until it faced north, and Garcia's car slid up against a car occupied by two young men who had stopped as they drove north on Bush and were waiting for me to pass. I would appreciate talking with those two young men whose names I did not ask for."

$101,000 Pier
Gets County O.K.

The city of Seal Beach was granted permission by a resolution of the county supervisors yesterday, to proceed with construction of its proposed $101,000 pier.

City Attorney Burr Brown told the board that after some search for authority for granting the pier, he found that counties have it under the harbor and navigation code. The war department, he said, would grant its permit when the county gave authorization for the pier.

GROWERS REPORT HEAVY SET OF NEW TOMATO VARIETY HERE

Several prominent local tomato growers have planted trial plantings of the new Pearson variety of tomatoes, according to Ross E. Crane, assistant farm advisor. This variety was developed by Dr. O. H. Pearson in 1935 while he was on the staff of the College of Agriculture, University of California.

Most of the plantings were made in July for the late shipping market. At the present time an unusually heavy set of fruit is on the vines. This heavy set of fruit is the principal characteristic of this variety from a commercial standpoint, Crane said. A few growers have started to make the first picking and report very satisfactory quality of fruit. Some growers report less disease in the Pearson plantings than in other varieties, especially less Mosaic disease, he said.

Trials have been made at San Juan Capistrano, Irvine, Olive, Anaheim and Tustin. One grower reports a very fine yield and quality from a summer planting in 1937. Another grower reports the Pearson to be about 10 days later than the Earliana for early planting. If present trials continue as satisfactory as they look at the present time, a substantial acreage for shipping will probably be planted in 1938.

ORANGE TO SUE IN SEWER RIFT

The city of Orange will institute court action against Orange county seeking damages of $10,655.96 for alleged unauthorized use of the city's sewer line with expense and damage to the city of Orange, according to action taken at a meeting of the council last night.

Gordon X. Richmond, city attorney, was authorized by the council to take action immediately and the council demanded that the county disconnect from the sewer line of the city of Orange and discontinue the use of the lateral for the county hospital.

Talked To Officials

Richmond was asked by the council if other cities of the county interested in the outfall sewer with which the Orange lateral connects would be interested in joining the action. The city attorney stated that he had talked to officials of the other cities in the outfall sewer district and that they were of the opinion that the problem was "Orange's baby."

It was brought out in a discussion of the matter that negotiations with the county had failed and it was alleged that the county had made connections at the county hospital with the city's lateral without the consent of Orange.

Councilman Hollis Showalter

stated that he had visited the place along the coast where the outfall sewer empties into the ocean and he stated the sewage is now running into the ocean instead of a catch basin.

Wedding Date Observed By The Kelloggs

To Mr. and Mrs. John Kellogg, 803 Orange avenue, the date of October 3 held special significance. For on that date 55 years ago, as two happy young lowns, Miss Alma J. East and John Kellogg, they exchanged wedding vows in the little city of Elvira.

Probably on that wedding day, neither bride nor bridegroom dreamed that 20 years later they were to come to the Southland to live. Surely neither one ever thought of the possibility of a world war, and that they would be called upon to sacrifice a son to the dread god Mars. But such was the future held for that young couple. It was in 1903 that they came to Santa Ana to make their ranch home on Orange avenue where they have lived ever since. And of their two sons, George and Ernest F. Kellogg, the latter gave his life in France. His memory is kept alive by the Santa Ana organization of Veterans of Foreign Wars, which chose Ernest F. Kellogg as its post name. Mrs. Kellogg, mother of the world war hero, is a life member of the organization. She is active, of course, in the Orange county chapter, American Gold Star Mothers, and in the Legion Mothers' club.

It was the American Legion that sent the beautiful golden-hearted roses that carried wedding congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Kellogg Monday. That evening they shone from the linen-spread table where the Kelloggs were hosts at an anniversary dinner. Their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. George Kellogg, Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Metzgar, Mrs. George Shriver, Mrs. Clara McCord, and Oscar Shriver comprised the intimate group of guests.

Mr. and Mrs. Kellogg are identified with First Presbyterian church and Mrs. Kellogg has always been active in W.C.T.U. affairs. For nearly 26 years she has held the office of treasurer in the Orange county W.C.T.U. • • •

HOME COMING

During the week of October 28, homecoming week for Santa Ana Jaysee alumni will be observed. Over 1000 former students are expected to attend.

An announcement of special interest made recently by Otto Grigg, president of the Student Body association was of the issuance of membership tickets for 25¢. This will give the alumni the privilege of sitting in a reserved section at the Municipal Bowl for all home football games.

A banquet preceding the Christmas dance and party at the end of the school year, are the two forms of meetings held by the association.

Playmates Are Bidden To Birthday Party

Mrs. Vernon A. Mathews, 807 West Edinger street, planned a very happy observance of the fourth birthday anniversary on Saturday of her little daughter Nadine, by inviting a group of children in for an afternoon party.

In the games program, prizes were won by Joyce Mathews and Jeannette Shaw, but each little guest received a gift when a fish pond proved to be a popular amusement. The birthday gifts received by Nadine were many and varied. Refreshments were served in the little girl's own room, where a low table was centered with a four-candled birthday cake. Candy favors were served with cake, ice cream and fruitade. Mrs. Mathews' mother, Mrs. Lettie Beaudette, and sisters, Miss Celia Beaudette and Mrs. Harvey Bear, assisted in serving.

All the children were interested in the small Nadine's baby sister Sonia, just three months old on her big sister's birthday. The little party guests were Jeanette and Lillian Shaw of Costa Mesa; Freddie and Edith Mathews of Huntington Beach; Joyce Mathews, Eleanor and Sarah Haven, Joyce Ann and Gordon McKenzie, Richard Cumston, Harry Mann Jr., Nancy Ann Cone and Ray Edwards. Mothers present with Mrs. Mathews and her assisting hostesses were Mesdames Clarence Mathew, Burt Mathews, Harold Shaw, Thomas Cone, Bertha McKenzie and Gene Edwards.

Club Members Hear Address By Dean Flint

Tracing historical events which points to the possible and inevitable effect of the European crisis on the situation in Asia, Calvin Flint, junior college dean of men, gave a fast-moving and informative talk yesterday afternoon at a meeting of the Woman's club of Santa Ana in Veterans hall.

No longer applicable is the saying "East is east and west is west, and never the twain shall meet," declared Flint, pointing out that the Orient is becoming westernized to an amazing degree. "Western powers have lost their power in the Orient; the policy of the 'open door' no longer exists," the speaker continued.

Strong Footnote

He pointed out that Japan's foothold in the Orient is much greater than is conceded generally. He added that the Japanese aggression policy is the natural outgrowth of Feudalism; a policy which the Japanese have been trying to put into effect since before the World War. Flint stressed the fact that he personally is not in favor of such a policy, but that the Japanese have many reasons to offer for their advance into China. He expressed the opinion that Japan would be satisfied and would practically cease her strident demands were she to close in on Hankow.

Flint reminded his audience that of the two groups of people in China: first, students and commercial men, second, coolies, the latter group is comprised of millions of undernourished Chinese who care not what group is in power. Anyone who raises the coolies' standards the least bit, is their benefactor.

Miss Mabel Whiting read a group of poems by Edna St. Vincent Millay from the current Harper's magazine, the majority of them inspiring evidently by the present chaotic conditions in Spain and in the Orient. "Say That We Saw Spain Die" drew a vivid analogy between the country and its famous bullfights. Concluding the program, Mrs. John Tessmann discussed those chapters in Louis Adamic's "My America," devoted to Hitler.

Contrary to many expressed opinions is the industrialists' hope that Japan will win in the present war. If she does, then she will need the continued help of foreign interests already established in the Orient. If China wins, her people are in such a communistic state that they will drive out the various interests which mean so much to any number of countries, the speaker explained.

Effect of Crisis

Referring to the present crisis in Europe, he mentioned that actually, United States is just as responsible to Czechoslovakia as is England, since it was Woodrow Wilson who was responsible for the setting up of Czechoslovakia at the time of the World War

One of the walking nightmares suffered by young wives is caused by proud friend husband blithely bringing home a pot-luck guest for dinner on the day the dinner is scrappy and dessert non-existent.

Don't let the situation stymie you. Just add a little more gravy to the stew and make "Lovers' Bow-Knots" for dessert. The Bow-Knots are my prize emergency dessert and one of the reasons why a package of prepared biscuit flour is always on hand. Now, this is what you will do, after lighting the oven and setting the heat at 475 degrees.

Holly-Wood Pie Crust

1 cup pastry flour sifted with 1 rounded tablespoon powdered sugar

1-4 pound butter, less one thin slice

—Contributed and tested

Chop the chilled butter into flour until the whole resembles a fine meal. Butter a pie tin, pat the dry butter-crumb over pan, much as you would a graham cracker crust. Carefully fit another pan over the crust and bake in a medium fast oven, lift out top pan and cool the crust. (Bake it in a glass pie plate, it can't be moved around much).

LATE NEWS FROM ORANGE

CITY SEEKING
$30,000 LOAN

ORANGE, Oct. 5.—City Clerk T. H. Elijah was authorized to advertise for a loan of $30,000 to be used for current expenses for the city of Orange at a meeting of the council last night. The money is to be repaid when the city receives the first installment of city taxes the first of December, it was brought out. The tax roll for the entire year totals $69,670.68.

Surety Bond Filed

The Southern Counties Gas company filed a surety bond of $1000 and filed a formal acceptance of the agreement between the city and company on a new franchise.

C. C. Bonebrake, city street superintendent, reported that the work in the alley back of the First National bank and a number of buildings on South Glassell is complete. Mayor A. C. Boice spoke of arrangements for oiling and graveling the area and then decided that the council should go into executive session to discuss the matter.

Settlement of a bill for $95 for repair work on the electric fountain the first part of last year again was deferred. L. M. Watson, representing the Westinghouse company of Los Angeles, introduced an engineer of the company, Frank R. Bowen, who stated that in his opinion repair work had been made by too many city employees regulating the fountain when it was first installed. He said the motor had been burned out by valves being tightened.

Guarantee Cited

Major Boice stated that the company had guaranteed perfect operation of the fountain and that repair work had been necessary. He suggested splitting the bill. Watson said he would take the suggestion to the firm he represented.

City Attorney Gordon X. Rich mond was authorized to institute court action to recover alleged damages of $10,655.96 for unauthorized use of the city's lateral to the outfall sewer by Orange county at the county hospital.

COUNCIL DOUBLES RATES ON WATER TO RAISE SEWER FUND

ORANGE, Oct. 5.—Water rates in the city limits of Orange were doubled last night at a meeting of the city council and rates to consumers outside of the city were raised one-half of the present rate. The minimum rate of $1 for the first 1000 cubic feet will be $2 as soon as the ordinance, up for first reading last night, becomes effective.

Consumers outside of the city limits will pay $2 for the first 1000 cubic feet. The remainder of the present ordinance regulating water rates will remain unchanged and 10 cents per 100 feet for the first additional 2800 feet with eight cents for the additional water used will be the charge. Other provisions regulate prices charged the county road department, spray rigs using city water and building and special purchases.

Bond Issue Suggested

Flood damage has seriously impaired the fiscal status of the city, it was stated in the amendment to the water ordinance. Councilman William Batt suggested giving the people of the city an opportunity to vote bonds or have the water rates raised. Present needs of the city prohibited the resort to a bond issue, Mayor A. C. Boice declared.

According to a statement made by City Clerk T. H. Elijah, the money, needed by the city in paying for its share of repair work to the outfall sewer line, damaged by the flood, will be raised in 18 months' time by the raise in rates. Councilman Batt suggested including 18 months in the amendment to raise the rates but his motion was overruled. The council approved a resolution authorizing work on a ferrous chloride treatment plant of the outfall sewer district at Fullerton.

Major A. C. Boice stated that he believed that the council's action would meet with approval of residents of the city as he believed it is the general opinion that it is better to raise rates than to vote bonds. He said he had contacted between 30 and 40 persons who had voiced this opinion.

CHAPTER III

REACHING the entrance of the Golden Bowl, Bob Tait found the big doors closed tight. A persistent knocking conjured up the red face of Detective Officer Michael Dunphy.

"Hello, Mike," Tait greeted him. "How's your chance to get in?"

"In is it? You're the first one that's been wanting to get in. The rest have been wanting to get out." Reluctantly, Dunphy shifted his huge bulk to admit Tait.

The great Bowl was empty now save a comparatively small knot of people down near the orchestra platform. Tait recognized the back of Detective Officer Dannie Feeley, the most persistent of the force down at headquarters.

"Where're all the rest of the mob, Mike?"

"Don't worry," said Michael Dunphy. "Dannie has watched that. They're upstairs, the women in one room and the men in another, and they're being frisked for suspicious belongings. The worst of it is, about 50 or 75 got out of here right after it happened." The detective sighed.

"Well," Tait answered good-humoredly, "there's nothing like getting in a lot of probable suspects if you're going to commit a murder."

"Yeah, I saw a movie once where a murder was committed at a football game."

"That was worse than this, any-how."

"WAS it now?" denied Mike Dunphy. "Say, that was pie compared with this! At least guys at football games talk sense. I can't understand a word those band players say. That little guy there with the clarinet?"

"That's enough for now," Feeley said. "The question I want answered right now is why Domby's brand-new wife isn't here."

TAIT saw Rogers smiling toward him. "Perhaps Bob Tait can answer that one. I believe I saw them together just after it happened."

"Good night, Rogers."

The manager of The Swingers nodded. "So long, Tait. Thanks for taking care of Mrs. Dombey."

The remark nettled Tait. He wondered, a little angrily, if Harris Rogers felt that his job of managing The Swingers went on to managing Lud Dombey's widow. He didn't care for the proprietary air Rogers had shown; and, above all, he didn't like the way Rogers had set Feeley on him.

"That's enough for now," Feeley said. "The question I want answered right now is why Domby's brand-new wife isn't here."

TAIT saw Rogers smiling toward him. "Perhaps Bob Tait can answer that one. I believe I saw them together just after it happened."

"Good night, Rogers."

The manager of The Swingers nodded. "So long, Tait. Thanks for taking care of Mrs. Dombey."

"What happened to her afterward?" Feeley wanted to know.

He hoped something else, more fervently. It was that he'd find Myrna at the apartment. There'd be plenty to explain to Feeley if she hadn't shown up there. And if she was there Tait wanted to talk to her—talk to her before Dunphy and Feeley arrived to badger her into saying things she didn't mean.

"I suppose I'm nuts," he told himself. "I ought to keep out of this."

But he knew that he wasn't going to keep out of it.

FOUR CARS OF PACKARD LINE ARE ANNOUNCED

The Packard Motor Car company today is introducing to the public all of its four "lines" of cars for 1939. Many improvements which the company says add comfort, driving ease, longer life, economy and beauty are listed in descriptions of the new Packards, according to R. W. Townsend, local distributor at 319 West Fifth street.

Characteristically Packard

As in the preceding models there is the Six, the One Twenty, or Eight as it is also known, the Super Eight and the Twelve, occupying price groups in this same order from the so-called medium low price class, as represented by the Six, to the high priced classification in the industry, as represented by the Twelve, "Flagship" of the Packard fleet.

Although still a big car of the ultra-luxurious type, the Super Eight, as compared with its predecessor, is considerably lighter and of shorter wheel base. Packard engineers say its ability and ease of handling on the open road or in traffic will be found to be outstanding. As with the Six and One Twenty it has an all-steel body with ample room for three persons on each seat of the sedan types. Seating capacity of the limousine and long wheelbase sedan is eight passengers.

New Gear Shift

All of the 1939 models are characteristically Packard in appearance, carrying, basically, the well known hood and radiator lines. Outstanding in a long list of mechanical improvements, standard equipment on all four lines of cars, is a new system of shifting gears. Speed changes are made with a small lever conveniently placed on the steering column just under the steering wheel. Packard has given this system the name, "Handshift."

With "Handshift" gears are changed in practically the same manner as with the old type of shifter lever so that, it is pointed out by the company, there are no new driving habits to learn. At the same time gear changing can be accomplished more quickly and much more conveniently and the floor of the driving compartment is unencumbered. The Twelve has a power actuated shift.

4 Speeds Ahead

A new simplified fourth speed, or overdrive, called "Econo-Drive," is automatically actuated by simply depressing and releasing the accelerator pedal, is available at low extra cost on the Six, One Twenty and Super Eight. Chief advantage claimed for Econo-Drive is that it reduces engine revolutions 27.8 per cent, saving greatly in motor wear and increasing fuel economy as much as 20 per cent. Oil economy is said to be improved to an even greater extent.

Engineers explain that a button on the dash can make Econo-Drive available for operation or lock it out of service. A newly developed control feature, they also point out, permits changing instantly to third speed gear for quick acceleration or hill climbing by simply depressing the accelerator pedal.

Packard this year introduces a fifth shock absorber, something new to motor cars on the Six, One Twenty and Super Eight. Its purpose is the suppression of side-wise or transverse road shocks.

ggers would permit, Bob Tait lit a cigarette. "I'll drift along, Dannie. If you need me for anything, I'll be around."

Feeley looked scornful. "If I need you I'll be in a bad fix, Mr. Tait." But there was the hint of ill in Feeley's voice. He had always liked Bob Tait, and they had naturally encountered each other often.

"Good night, Rogers."

The manager of The Swingers nodded. "So long, Tait. Thanks for taking care of Mrs. Dombey."

Tait heard the smooth, well-modulated voice of Harris Rogers. "I'll be glad to stay, Officer Feeley. As manager of the band and Mr. Dombey's personal affairs I can probably answer any questions the boys could."

"That's enough for now," Feeley said. "The question I want answered right now is why Domby's brand-new wife isn't here."

TAIT saw Rogers smiling toward him. "Perhaps Bob Tait can answer that one. I believe I saw them together just after it happened."

"Good night, Rogers."

The manager of The Swingers nodded. "So long, Tait. Thanks for taking care of Mrs. Dombey."

"What happened to her afterward?" Feeley wanted to know.

He hoped something else, more fervently. It was that he'd find Myrna at the apartment. There'd be plenty to explain to Feeley if she hadn't shown up there. And if she was there Tait wanted to talk to her—talk to her before Dunphy and Feeley arrived to badger her into saying things she didn't mean.

"I suppose I'm nuts," he told himself. "I ought to keep out of this."

But he knew that he wasn't going to keep out of it.

(To Be Continued)

Motorists will encounter a 400 foot detour in Santa Ana Canyon which has been oiled and is in good condition, but careful driving is necessary, according to the Riverside Office of the National Automobile Club. The detour, caused by the construction and preparation for the Prado Dam, is located about halfway in the canyon. Construction to date has been devoted mainly to realigning the railroad line.

S. A. CANYON DETOUR

October brings the close of the official summer season but it does not bring the end of the danger season from forest fires. This is impressively brought to the attention of motorists by recent devastating blazes in several Southern California mountain areas.

After the long dry summer the fire menace is greater. Now is the time to redouble protective efforts for the safety of forest cover, is the warning sent out by the outing bureau of the Automobile Club of Southern California. Hunters, fishermen, campers, tourists and all who have reason to pass through the wild country are urged to be constantly on guard against fire.

Packed in Ice

"The new H-R battery derives its initials from 'H' for 'heavy-duty' and 'R' for 'thread-rubber' insulation. It cranked and started six cars simultaneously in less than six seconds, then started four cars simultaneously in six seconds while it was packed in ice. After which it cranked continuously for more tests the battery was connected to the starter of one car 18 minutes and 21 seconds with a 155 ampere current draw.

"The H-A is a real bargain because it lasts 68 per cent longer than the average of over 100 other brands, including all the best known makes, and costs only slightly more than half of many of the premium grades," Scarbrough said.

DRIVE CAREFULLY -SAVE A LIFE-

INTERNATIONAL FRIENDSHIPS

It has been suggested that the King and Queen of England be invited to attend the San Francisco and New York expositions, to be held during 1939. And certainly, a visit of Their Majesties to this country would be a splendid gesture to a troubled world, illustrating as it would the firm friendship that exists between the two great English-speaking democracies.

Furthermore, there is plenty of past precedent for such an invitation, and for its acceptance as well.

The King and Queen recently paid a state visit to France, another of England's old friends and allies. And President Roosevelt, though he has not gone abroad since becoming Chief Executive, has visited South America and Canada in furthering his "good neighbor" policy. When the head of a major nation goes to a foreign land, sees and is seen by its people, the immensely important cause of better international understanding is substantially furthered.

The invitation to the King and Queen should come not only from officials of this government, but from the public as well—from editors in every section of the United States—who represent the millions of Americans who desire peace and friendship between nations. To these citizens, such a visit would not be a mere formal expression of good will. It would typify the genuine regard that exists between the United States and the British Empire. And next year, when untold numbers of people will go to New York and San Francisco for the expositions, is the logical time.

GET INTO THE SWIM

This month, a week will be given to informing the public of the hazards of one of man's most destructive enemies—uncontrolled fire. Fire Prevention Week, which has been an annual event ever since it was proclaimed by President Woodrow Wilson more than two decades ago, will begin October 9 and run through the 15th.

A few vivid figures illustrate the importance of the week. Each year fire destroys about $300,000,000 worth of property directly—and the indirect loss brings the total to the billion dollar mark. Worse yet, it kills 10,000 people horribly, an average of 27 each day of the year. This is what carelessness, ignorance and incompetence breed.

There isn't a hamlet in the country which won't be reached to some extent through Fire Prevention Week activities. And there isn't a citizen in the country who can provide a sound alibi if he fails to absorb some of the simple facts and information that are all that is needed to prevent and control most fires. Governors of states and other public officials will take part. Insurance organizations will issue pamphlets, run advertisements in newspapers and periodicals, and prepare window displays. Fire marshals and chiefs will speak.

Believe it or not, fire prevention is fun—even as instruction in fire prevention is nowadays made dramatic and entertaining. It doesn't take much in either time or money. It does pay tremendous dividends. Mark down the date of Fire Prevention Week on your calendar—and get into the swim.

"RECESSIONS" MAY BENEFIT

Even "recessions" have silver linings occasionally. The one from which the country seems to be currently emerging should lay bare to the public gaze one grave fact, namely the rising expenditures of the federal government.

Until recently record tax receipts tended to narrow the spread between income and outgo, creating an illusion of decreased expenditures. For example, fiscal 1938 showed a federal deficit of only about a billion and a half, compared with a record deficit of nearly four and one-half billions in 1936. This led many persons to believe that the bureaucrats were actually practicing some of the economies that they constantly preach, all of which is just so much hot air.

Expenditures have risen steadily for the last eight or nine years. Today the regular annual budget for the federal government is seriously close to $9,000,000,000. What the recession with its consequent falling off of tax receipts, together with new "emergency spending" reveals, is an estimated deficit for 1939 of at least $4,000,000,000. By the end of this fiscal year the federal debt will touch another of its periodical "all time highs" of more than $40,000,000,000.

The "experts" differ as to just how big a debt burden the country can stand without suffering a chaotic collapse. But most of them agree on two scores. It is doubtful whether representative government can survive national bankruptcy, and the public debt is nearing the danger point.

If the recession awakens the "average citizen" to the true state of the nation's fiscal affairs, it indeed will have rendered a public service.

PROCESSING TAXES LOOM

(Wall Street Journal)

A year ago when Secretary Wallace was ardently pushing his agriculture bill, he himself included authority for production control as an essential phase of his six-point program. There is nothing to indicate that he has changed his mind, and indeed it is only to save this principle that he is now willing to accept processing taxes as a means of raising the farmer's income.

The fact is, however, that even last year Mr. Wallace visioned the possibility of processing taxes if the rest of his plan did not satisfy the farmer.

"In view of these difficulties of financing an adequate cotton program," he said on October 1, 1937, "it may be that the farmers of the South may want to ask Congress to go back to the principle of letting the commodity itself bear the load of providing the needed funds." In this statement, it is hardly necessary to point out, the use of the word "commodity" as bearing the load is merely a euphemism for consumers.

Now it appears that unless processing taxes are enacted, the cotton producers, or a voting majority of them, may demand something worse, absolute price fixing. The farmer wants higher prices for his crops. He is willing to accept voluntary production control when prices are relatively high and he sees a way to obtain loans for the surplus

BENEFITS TO FREE TRADE

When the advocates of protective tariff contend, as they invariably do, that we must have protective tariffs in order to maintain the standard of wages, it is interesting to hear them answer the following question:

"If some foreign country could furnish us absolutely free all the clothing we, in the United States, needed and paid the freight to deliver, would the workers of the United States be better off?"

If they attempt to be consistent and say they would not be, then the next logical question to ask these advocates of protective tariff is whether the workers would be better off if they had to work and pay for air they breathe instead of having it free. They invariably will agree that the workers are better off with free air than if they had to pay for it.

The point in the discussion is that if the workers are better off because the air is free, then they would be better off if shoes were free. Of course, this cannot be, but if workers could trade something that took only one-fourth the energy to produce to get the shoes as it would to produce their shoes in this country, would not the workers in this country then be better off?

The advocates of protective tariff fail to realize that no one from a foreign land would continue to furnish the people of the United States the comforts of life without we, in the United States, producing something here to send abroad to pay for these comforts; that we never imported anything, unless it be to our advantage; that it cannot be imported without eventually sending something abroad to pay for it; that if we can trade to our advantage, then the workers of this country are better off by having a free exchange than to have a barrier compelling them to produce something that requires more labor than necessary to get what they need and want.

The whole crux of the belief that protective tariff helps the working man seems to come from the fallacious idea so commonly heard and expressed, that men want to work. It is not work that men want, but it is the fruits of work that they are after. And anything that will increase the fruits of labor is to the advantage of labor. Anything that decreases the fruits is to the disadvantage of labor and lowers the standard of living of the workers.

Probably the general belief in tariffs is a result of propaganda from people who want their particular product protected, to the disadvantage of producers of other products.

DUTIES OF THE STATE

As we see the states in Europe and America encroaching more and more on the rights of the individual, it might be well to remember that those states, that of necessity are obliged to protect people from neighboring aggression, must be able to have a greater control over the lives of the individual than the state that is not surrounded by danger of invasion from the neighboring state. Just to the degree that a state becomes industrial, rather than lives by conquest, should the individual freedom be increased.

So we, in the United States, should not feel that we are obliged to follow in the footsteps of Europe in government control where they have covetous nations on all sides.

Herbert Spencer, in his essay on "The Great Political Superstition," points this out when he says, "Defense of the society as a whole against external invaders, has for its remote end to preserve each citizen in possession of such means as he has for satisfying his desires, and in possession of such liberty as he has for getting further means. And defense of each citizen against internal invaders, from murderers down to those who inflict nuisances on their neighbors, has obviously the like end—an end desired by every one save the criminal and disorderly. Hence it follows that for maintenance of this vital principle, alike of individual life and social life, subordination of minority to majority is legitimate; as implying only such a trenching on the freedom and prosperity of each, as is requisite for the better protection of his freedom and property. At the same time it follows that such subordination is not legitimate beyond this; since, implying as it does a greater aggression upon the individual than is requisite for protecting him, it involves a breach of the vital principle which is to be maintained."

EXPORT SUBSIDIES

Those who are the strongest advocates of the government doing most everything for everyone, are now the ones who are advocating the government selling wheat and cotton abroad for less than it is sold to the workers in this country.

Years ago, these same people protested, and rightly so, the selling of manufactured goods abroad at a lower price than was sold in this country.

The consistency of politicians and reformers is conspicuous by its absence.

The only conclusive evidence of a man's sincerity is that he gave himself for a principle.—J. R. Lowell of one year's crop while waiting for production control to improve the statistical position of the commodity next year. But when prices fall and he is asked to accept both low quotations and a reduction in acreage, he becomes dissatisfied. He wants a return commensurate with the expense of production, and he doesn't want to be limited in production.

At this point, unless all production control and thus the ever-normal crop plan itself is to collapse utterly, some new form of income to the farmer must be proposed. And who pays? The consumer. He will probably be asked to pay through processing taxes. If this is not enough, great subsidies will be required to keep it alive, such a thought appears merely ironic.

There is, of course, an alternative which would retain planned production with no direct tax on the consumer. That is compulsory production control. Few but the politically naive think such a move has a real chance of success, and it is distinctly doubtful if such coercion is desirable in any case.

At the time the ever-normal granary was first proposed, it was argued by Secretary Wallace that the plan would benefit not only farmers but urban dwellers as well. In the light of its development in less than a year, and the apparent inimiceness of the processing tax to keep it alive, such a thought appears merely ironic.

It is for each to utter that which he sincerely believes to be true, and add his unit of influence to all other units of influence, and let the results work themselves out.—Spencer Contributors are urged to confine their articles to 300 words.

Fellow Citizens: Mr. Bill Arp's

question of "how could a pension plan and a recovery plan be combined" is very easily answered. He states that "a financial recovery plan would propose the reduction of taxes, economy, and putting all men to productive labor." I agree with him on this latter statement. He claims the Townsend Plan proposes the opposite. Therein he is wrong.

Mr. Arp also wonders why I waded through the maze of transfers, turnovers, etc., to show the cost of the Townsend Plan. The purpose was undoubtedly lost to him.

The two hundred dollars spent by one person each month requires some man to work at a job to create this $200 worth of goods. Don't misunderstand me. One man doesn't create all the goods $200 will buy, but the man hours required for the production of these articles from their rawest state to consumer will total a good month's work for one man—drawing the conclusion that $200 spent requires one man to work.

Judging from the printed words of the semi-official columnist of Mr. Corcoran's White House janzariat, and other advices, the Palace Guards have put the bee of kitchen-Cabinet displeasure on Henry. They say he is not, "in his heart, truly liberal." He wouldn't lend his aid to purge Senator Gillette in his native state of Iowa, and actually resists unlimited handouts, like the suggested excessive cotton loan.

Henry, his AAA is, or could be, a very powerful political organization—with agents and committees in every rural district.

There has been too much talk about his availability in 1940 for his own good.

All this is of political importance. One of the four pillars of Third New Deal strength is agriculture—the other three being Negroes, the unemployed and the Solid South. In states, Republican by inheritance since the Civil War, G.O.P. farmers have voted Democratic in three elections, and their tongues in their cheeks and their minds receptive to the "gentle rain of checks" and other "benefits." It would take very little to lure them back to the faith of their fathers. One of two things could do it—or a little of both—failure of the present Agricultural Act or a new Republican program outpacing it.

Mr. Arp also states that California would pay twice as much under a federal pension law as under a state law, because the wealth of its population is twice that of the population of the average state. I doubt that statement. The transaction tax covers only transactions, not personal property.

Per capita each state has practically the same proportion of elderly people. Per capita they would receive practically the same proportion back to increase purchasing power, and hence a demand for labor.

Wealth is an article or object with some material value. Money isn't wealth. It can be exchanged for wealth, but as money, only represents credit. This credit is too easily manipulated by private interests. It shouldn't be so.

In answer to the statement that the pensioners in 15 years would own the wealth of the United States may I ask a question?

After taxes, depreciation, etc., are paid by a person receiving $200 per month (with a stipulation of enforced spending and resignation of any enterprise for profit) how could anyone ever amass any material wealth outside of maybe a home at the end of 15 years, provided that he or she used a fair sum for recreation, something that few enjoy enough of today? Certainly the clothing, cars, furniture, food, taxes, amusement, etc., couldn't be classed as amassed wealth after 15 years of depreciation.

I'll never contend that crime will ever be abolished. I do believe that present conditions have contributed 100 per cent to our crime bill. Crime cost the United States upwards of 18 billion dollars last year. Additional billions were needed for old age homes, bread lines, charity, relief, etc.

to let actual price and production go free of all restrictions and subsidize the farmer the difference between the free market and "fair" price by a tax on what we actually consume in this country.

So far as our pocketbooks are concerned, we don't care whether the price we pay is "managed" by restricting production and regulating farmers or, in part, subsidized by a tax. But so far as American institutions and the farmer's export markets are concerned, it is a difference of vital concern.

Had this little quotation of his been practiced to date I could guarantee you that the democracy we hold today would look ridiculous.

Has Mr. Arp any other practical criticisms, or questions?

That we may disagree may be inevitable, but healthful. Thank you.

News Behind The News

By PAUL MALLON

World Copyright 1938 by King Features Syndicate, Inc.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 5.—Anti-monopoly quizzers have been going around with their noses tilted to such a high plane that it seemed they were wearing onions in their ties as scarfs. They never say anything. Not once have they stooped to anything as low as plebeian publicity about what they are doing. Their story is that this is a national economic investigation to chart the future course of the nation, and therefore must be conducted at approximately a heavenly moral elevation.

Someone must have left his onion at home the other day, however, when the private commerce department questionnaires were sent out to groups of business men known as trade associations. The government nose there was tilted downward to about as low a snooping angle as an official federal authority ever adopted.

It was not given out, but the foremost and biggest question in the 13-page questionnaire was a direct request to each trade association executive to tip the government off on any dirty business "not in the public interest" being done by any of his competing trade associations and their executives.

Every other question provided a brief space for an answer, but opposite this question alone was inserted in parenthesis, "No space limits" on replies.

After asking trade men for sneak tips to the government on their competitors, the un-announced questionnaire asked about every conceivable phase of trade association activity and some that are not. It asks about co-operative selling arrangement, inside credit information service, public relations work.

It wants to know what arrangements exist for classification of customers, of sales areas, of trade practices; what employer-employee relationship exist; what safety measures have been taken for employees; what relations are maintained with the government (remember this is the government itself asking.)

One simple little statement requests a financial accounting for a four-year period; another, how much time each member of the board of directors actually spent last year in the affairs of the association.

The government also wants to get a breakdown on the boards of directors by geographical areas and the size of business represented; an analysis of the economic and legal activity of the trade groups; the age, education and experience of every trade association employee earning over $2,400 a year.

The questionnaire says that when responses are received, the commerce department and the anti-monopoly committee will have a "convincing presentation" of the situation in trade associations.

While there may be some doubt about the "convincing" angle of ist.
